DO YOU KNOW which states allow abortion?

Most MCWC abortion-minded patients find us when they are searching online for the nearest abortion clinic. Many of these patients plan to go to a nearby state with legalized abortion. Do you know which states allow it? See the resource map below to be informed.

We are thankful for EVERY woman who has found us FIRST before heading out of state for an abortion or ordering the abortion pill online illegally. Let's join in prayer to eradicate abortion in the United States!

13 states completely ban abortion

28 states ban abortion after a specified point in pregnancy

22 states require a person seeking an abortion to wait a specified period of time before their abortion

38 states require some type of parental involvement for a minor to get an abortion

10 states have legalized abortion up to birth.

DID YOU KNOW most abortions in our community, state, and nation are through chemical abortion pills?

Even though abortion is illegal in Texas, babies still die daily because women are having abortions in their own homes by accessing the abortion pill online. It is then routed through a third party and mailed to the young woman's home. Mail-order abortions in Texas remain highly unregulated.

How the abortion pill (RU-486) works:

Typically, this is a two-dose pill process.

1. Mifepristone which essentially cuts off the life support of the baby.
2. Misoprostol which induces labor, causing the woman to contract and expel the baby.

While the Pro-abortion movement pushes it's agenda under the deceptive practices of women's healthcare, marketing these abortion pills as "safer than Tylenol", could not be further from the truth.

To name just a few of the risks, women who take the pills commonly suffer from:

1. Abdominal pain or severe uterine cramping
2. Back pain
3. Diarrhea
4. Dizziness/headache
5. Nausea/vomiting
6. Bleeding that is many times severe
7. Fever due to infection
8. Trauma of managing the expelled baby at home
9. Incomplete or partial abortion

Please join us in prayer today:

1. For every woman who has been traumatized by the pain of abortion to find healing and the love of Jesus.
2. For the deceptions about the abortion pill to be brought into the light.
3. The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to review a lower court decision that would make mifepristone less accessible in the U.S.

There are many lies and misconceptions surrounding the overturning of Roe v. Wade and the Texas law, which often confuses and scares our abortion-minded patients. We all need to be armed with the TRUTH.

MY RIGHTS After Roe

Abortion is NOT illegal throughout the United States. The overturn of Roe simply gives the individual states the ability to regulate abortions. (1)

State laws can and do change. Abortion is currently NOT legal in Texas.

A woman who obtains an abortion (or a woman who has previously obtained an abortion) CANNOT be prosecuted. (3)

Abortions ARE allowed if the life of the mother is at risk. (2)

A miscarriage is NOT an abortion and thus is NOT affected by the overturn of Roe. A woman will not be denied medical care for a miscarriage. (4)

IVF is NOT affected by the overturn of Roe. (5)

Do you know about Modern Adoption?

Gone are the days when a birth mom never knows where or with whom her child is being raised. A child no longer has to wonder about details of his/her parents, background, and history.

Today, approximately 95% of domestic adoptions are "open", meaning the birth parents and adoptive parents speak before and after the adoption. This communication can look a variety of ways anywhere from time spent together to occasional updates with no communication with the child and everything in between.

In addition, most domestic adoption services focus on the birth mom, supporting them emotionally as they make their adoption plan and choose a family. Many also provide or assist with medical needs, finances, and plans after birth, such as completing their education and finding a job.

What words do I use when referring to adoption?

INSTEAD OF SAYING:	SAY THIS:
Giving up for adoption Gave her baby away Put up for adoption	Made an adoption plan Chose adoption for her child Gave her child a family
Choosing to keep her baby	Choosing to parent her baby
Real Mom	Birth Mom Biological Mom Birth parent

What does the Bible say about Adoption?

While adoptions have changed, often the conversation surrounding adoption needs to catch up to that change. What is the best way to empower a mom to choose adoption? Do you have adoption biases that would keep you from sharing these truths?

Abortion: From Controversy to Civility

Stephanie Gray, internationally renowned speaker and author, applies the Socratic method and storytelling to the debate surrounding abortion.

She invites the audience to be “pro-conversation” on a topic that can be one of the most divisive and demonstrates that it is possible to be gracious and respectful when encountering different ideas.

Stephanie talks about her experiences of traveling across the world and dialoguing with college students, hearing personal stories of poverty and sexual abuse, and sitting down for coffee to have friendly conversations with debate opponents; it reflects on the United Nations' policies on human rights and examines the insights of psychiatrist and Holocaust-survivor Dr. Viktor Frankl.

The abortion pill, also called chemical abortion, is a two-dose pill process:

1. Mifepristone is given first which blocks progesterone receptors essentially cutting off the life support of the baby.
2. Misoprostol is then given to induce labor, causing the uterus to contract and expel the baby.

According to Guttmacher Institute, at least 63% of all abortions were performed through this chemical process, an increase of 19% since Dobbs."

However, did you know, that if a woman changes her mind after taking the first pill, Mifepristone, there is a chance to save the life of her baby?

According to abortionpillreversal.com, if the mother receives the Abortion Pill Reversal (APR) protocol, which involves the prescription of progesterone for a specified period, initial studies have shown a success rate of 68% or higher in saving the life of the baby!*

While we currently refer patients to appropriate APR networks, MCWC now offers free APR services to our patients! Your donations made this possible!

It should be noted that simply not taking the 2nd pill may allow the pregnancy to continue, but this protocol has been shown to increase the odds of survival.

DO YOU THINK you could guess what an Abortion Minded (AM) or Abortion Vulnerable (AV) woman looks like? A teenager with her first pregnancy? Uneducated? Non-Christian?

You might be surprised to learn who is served at Mid Cities Women's Clinic. The following tables show an overview of the AM and AV patients at MCWC in 2025.

Some facts that might surprise you:

1. 64% of our AM and AV mark Christian (Protestant or Catholic) on their intake form.
2. 55% of our AM and AV patients are in their 20s and only 8% are teenagers or younger.
3. Only 3% of our AM and AV patients have less than a high school education.
4. Less than 1% of our AM and AV patients are welfare-dependent.
5. 24% of the AM and AV patients are married.

Is this what you expected? What surprises you?

COMMON ARGUMENTS ABOUT PREGNANCY RESOURCE CENTERS.

1. Myth: PRCs only care about the baby and don't care what happens to the women after they've given birth.

Fact: Mid Cities Women's Clinic loves to give ongoing, continued care and extensive resources to moms who choose life. At the basic level, our patients can get free diapers, wipes, new baby clothing, and other items by simply watching educational videos online on various topics such as parenting, and finances. We provide continuing relationships through mentoring, post-abortive care, and onsite Parenting Education Classes that include infant CPR, Child Development, Labor and Delivery, and Breastfeeding all taught by licensed medical professionals. Beyond that, MCWC provides an extensive and vetted list of partnerships and resources providing low or no-cost services in areas of housing, substance abuse programs, professional counseling, job placement, church homes, and more. This list includes OB-GYN doctors who can provide ongoing care.

2. Myth: PRCs are fake clinics, without medical professionals.

Fact: MCWC provides quality medical services such as pregnancy tests, STI tests, sonograms, and limited blood screening. All medical services are provided by our Registered Nurse staff, RN volunteers, and Sonographers. Medical information is ONLY provided by a medical professional.

In addition, all medical services are overseen by a licensed OB-GYN and we strictly adhere to all HIPAA rules and regulations.

3. Myth: PRC employees and volunteers will judge women for their choices.

Fact: MCWC provides judgment-free care. We truly care about the patient, her life, and her future. While we may not agree with all choices, we love her and try to lovingly guide her. Volunteers are trained to end a woman's appointment by letting her know that we love her and that if she chooses abortion, we will welcome her back at any time for further services, including post-abortive care.

4. Myth: PRCs like to trick women into their offices with false promises.

Fact: At MCWC, we discuss all of a woman's options, while providing the medical and scientific truth about each of those options. We want her to be empowered to make a decision that she can live with, armed with all the facts.

While it is true that we do not provide abortions or refer for abortions, we state that upfront to patients over the phone when they make the appointment, in person when they arrive for their appointment, and in the counseling rooms.

5. Myth: PRCs try to force women to parent or choose adoption.

Fact: MCWC provides compassionate and non-judgmental counseling and talks about the TRUTH of each of their options. MCWC uses a permission-based approach to all that we share. Our trained staff and volunteers use terms such as "Can I share..." before sharing any information on abortion, adoption, parenting, or any other aspect of care. If at any point the patient does not want that information, we will discontinue that conversation.

At times, the women we help, choose the path of abortion. Although we will not help with those referrals, we make sure the woman knows she is loved and welcome back for care at any time. Because of the unconditional love they experience, many patients come back to us after their abortion, either with an additional pregnancy or for post-abortion counseling.

6. Myth: PRCs force patients to convert to their religion before assisting.

Fact: MCWC will provide care to any person of any faith, or no faith. Again, we use a permission-based approach to all that we share, including sharing the Gospel. While we offer a spiritual conversation to every patient, it is their choice to accept or reject this conversation. Most of our patients accept the conversation very willingly and at times dedicate, or re-dedicate, their life to Christ. Some choose to not have the conversation and their wishes are respected without judgment as we demonstrate Jesus to them in our services.

7. Myth: PRCs are politically fueled.

Fact: The services MCWC provides are the same no matter what the current law states. Our services remained the same before and after the overturn of Roe v. Wade. No matter the law, we want to help empower women, who often feel scared, lost, and alone. We want them to know the truth about all their choices.

8. Myth: PRCs are profiting off these women in crisis.

Fact: Every service offered by MCWC is free to our patients. In addition, we receive no funds when a patient uses one of our recommended resources.

MCWC is funded by private donations given at annual fundraisers and through monthly and one-time donations. A small percentage of funds come from private grants and also from partnering churches.
